

Woy Woy Lions Park District Playspace Upgrade

Engagement Summary

Central Coast
Council

Summary

Between 28 September and 27 October 2023, Central Coast Council sought community feedback on Woy Woy Lions Park District Playspace Upgrade.

Although the current playspace has served our community well, we are committed to delivering a new, inclusive park with the capacity for more varied equipment for activations and social engagement for all ages, abilities and cultural groups.

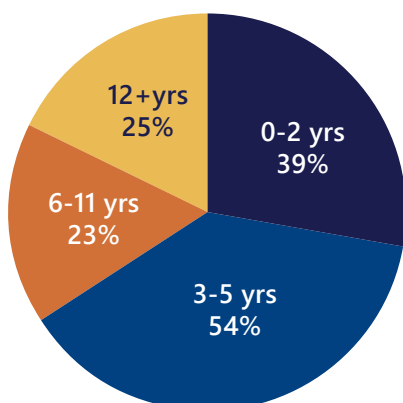

The community's feedback was collected to determine the current and future users of Woy Woy Lions Park and your preferences for the type of playspace and inclusions important to you. This will also help inform us in selecting equipment while guiding the design of the layout and the recreational facilities to be included.

We invited the community to complete an online submission form to capture demographic information of the park's users and equipment preferences.

“We note from the concept plan that it’s proposed to enhance the facility’s shade by increasing the number of trees. This is welcome. It’s important that suitable trees (e.g. to place and purpose) are selected and sited to provide shade for changing times of day and seasons, and that existing trees are protected, not removed.”

“Why is the path a rigid design? Why not curve it around existing trees and give it interest like the existing path. A curved path will be easier to manage for young children on bikes.”

“At least 1 piece of equipment that allows people we disabilities to be included in play”

What’s next?

The Open Space & Recreation team and Project Management team will now compile your feedback to support the tendering process. The feedback will guide the final designs and construction.

We will inform the community of the finalised plans in the coming months.
